ROCKEFELLER AND HIS ASSOCIATES ARE ONES WANTED

PROSECUTOR DAVID SAYS THAT HE IS NOT AFTER THE HIRED MEN.

ANOTHER LINK IN THE CHAIN

John O'Brien Testifies After Promised
Immunity by Judge Banker of Findlay.

Findlay, O., Oct. 15.—Prosecutor David will bend every effort to know the facts about foreign companies holding controlling interest in subsidiaries of Standard Oil in the case against the latter company and Rockefeller, now on here.

It is probable that foreign countries may be appealed to for the right to procure evidence vital to conviction.

"We are not after the hired man," said Mr. David today, "but John D. Rockefeller and his associates."

The fifth day's session of the Probate court in the prosecution of Standard Oil, opened this morning with the state following its lead developed at the close of last week's session, to show connection of the subsidiary companies with the Standard.

John O'Brien, of Lima, superintendent of the Buckeye Pipe Line, was the first witness. When Attorney Phelps asked O'Brien what his business was, he asked the court to give him immunity.

"Would your answers lead to incriminate you?" asked the court.

"They might," replied the witness, who said he was under prosecution in this court.

"Well, under the circumstances, I suggest he be immunized," retorted Mr. Phelps. Judge Banker ordered him to answer. O'Brien said he had succeeded today as president of the Buckeye about a year and a half ago. O'Brien said their bookkeeper was A. L. Bates, a man, who H. J. Scott said, furnished him telegraph information over the Buckeye wires of the credit balances of oil. The Indiana Pipe Line company, he said, was the connecting line of the Buckeye in Indiana, and oil sent to Indiana is delivered to the Indiana company. The witness was unable to state that the Indiana company delivered its oil to Whiting, Ind., the big Standard headquarters.

O'Brien said he was a director of the company, succeeding today. He was not present at the meeting which elected him. At the stockholders' meeting in Lima proxies were in the office and he didn't know where they came from. "I voted a proxy of the Standard of New Jersey, but don't remember the exact number of shares I voted," he testified.

When the state tried to get the witness to say he voted all his shares except Bates, McLaughlin, Ball and himself, O'Brien could not give the exact number. He said he only owned one share. O'Brien's admission established Standard connection with the Buckeye and was the second link in the chain of evidence now being forged by the state.

Gibson, the military attaché who will inspect military conditions in Russia. Meyer's trip is devoid of political significance. FURIOUS FRENCHMEN.

Riot and Reprisal Followed Peculiar Start at Race Course.

Paris, Oct. 15.—At the Long Champs race course Sunday there was a violent demonstration over an unsatisfactory start in the free handicap. The trouble culminated in riots, pillage and incendiarism. There were nine starters in the free handicap and four, including the favorite, were left at the post. Amid a terrific uproar a complete outsider won. The public immediately became enraged, broke down the barriers and invaded the track. Crowds demanded the return of their bets. They surrounded the bookmakers, chased out the cashiers and seized the money. Attempts to restore order were in vain, the small force of police present being inadequate. The crowd's anger increased and men began breaking chairs and throwing them on the track. Others raided automobiles standing near the grandstands, seized some supplies of petroleum, with which they sprinkled the booths and other woodwork, and set them afire. The firemen on duty were helpless as the hose was cut.

The authorities then telephoned to Mont Valerien for assistance and a strong body of troops was at once sent up on the double quick. The soldiers succeeded eventually in clearing the inclosure by charging, but in the meantime the betting structures burned to the ground. A large wooden building belonging to the bookmakers also was set on fire. A large number of policemen and rioters were injured and 60 arrests were made. A large force of troops remained on duty throughout the night at the Long Champs and Auteuil courses.

DELAY CAUSED BY ILLNESS OF CHIEF COUNSEL AND TWO JURORS.

Important Witness Also Ill, But the Trial Proceeds—A Strange Coincidence.

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 15.—After it had seemed certain that the trial of Dr. Frank Brower, accused of wife murder, would have to be delayed, owing to illness of chief counsel Wilson Dr. Marshall, his chief expert for the defense and two jurors, Cobb and Bell, all of the men finally took their places today and the case was continued with a physician in attendance to care for any of the men who might become seriously ill. By a strange coincidence, both Dr. Marshall and Attorney Wilson are suffering from the very trouble they are seeking to prove caused the death of Mrs. Brower, viz.: poisoning.

LOW SHAPES AND RAC K TRIMMINGS APPEAR.

In spite of what so many would be prophets have proclaimed, it seems that we are not by any means to bid a fond farewell to the bandeau—at least not for many moons yet to come. One of the most impressive of its uses is charmingly set forth in the imported model from Delfontaine, of Paris—a modiste who fashions the fascinating headgear that the professional beauties of Paris display and who pay enormous sums for the privilege. A model of quiet elegance and good taste it presents itself in a burnt coffee brown felt, with brown mouseline de soie, brown velvet ribbon and a long paradise plume that shades from the deepest mandarin tint through the golden yellows to fade

An Autumn Luxury.

LIFE seems a whole lot sweeter When election day draws near. It is never an' completer. Leastways, that's how things appear. Nearly every kind o' blessing' You could wish for comes in reach When the candidate's addressin' Us constituents in a speech.

The apples, softly blushin', Seems to smile an' welcome him, An' the breeze comes up a-rushin', So to shake 'em off the limb. An' when he starts a-sayin' How he likes us, every one, It is jes' like music playin', An' we're sorry when it's done.

You kin talk 'bout oysters growin', Plump an' fine, down in the bay And about the redbirds showin' Greater sweetness every day An' the other joys that beckon To contentment in the fall; But the candidate, I reckon, Is the one that beats them all. —Washington Star.

Edyth—You bet I did. I told him the sooner he left the better I'd like it.—Detroit Free Press.

Tourist—Were there not a lot of people killed in a recent wreck near the station we just passed?

Police Are Investigating.

Birthday Party.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Lamp pleasantly entertained at dinner Saturday at their home, 814 West Main street, in honor of Mr. Lamp's 64th birthday anniversary. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Lamp and Misses Helen and Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hartough and son, Allan, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Orr, Mrs. Duthimer, Mrs. Gutridge, Mrs. Lamp of Reynoldsburg, Mrs. Miller of Kirtsville, Frederick and Dorothy Scott, Miss Mac Lamp and Miss Myrtle Lamp.

Sunday Morning Fire.

An alarm of fire about 10:25 o'clock Sunday morning called the Central and the North End fire departments to the residence of George Williamson, 404 North Tenth street, which was discovered to be on fire. The members of the family were in the basement, when their attention was attracted to a crackling noise in the upper part of the house. Running up stairs they threw open the door of the dining room only to be confronted by a wall of fire. When the firemen arrived on the scene the fire had gained considerable headway, but was soon extinguished. In some unexplainable manner the fire had started at the foot of the stairs and had crept up to the rooms above, badly charring the woodwork and burning a considerable quantity of clothes.

Hunting Freight Cars.

The Pennsylvania has adopted heroic methods in an effort to secure relief from the serious shortage of freight cars and to prevent, if possible, the loss of revenue from a lack of equipment to move the freight that is waiting. Four men have been detailed to scour the country for Pennsylvania cars and to send them home at once. Practically every road in the United States will be gone over, which will necessitate the men traveling thousands of miles.

POLITE BURGLAR ON PEARL STREET

BEGGED THE WOMAN'S PARDON WHEN HE WAS CAUGHT AT ONE OF WINDOWS.

Excused Himself by Saying Family Was Wanted at Home of a Neighbor.

Residents on Pearl street, and in fact over a goodly portion of North Newark, have been alarmed recently by a peculiar means employed by some person whose object seems to be burglary but who employs methods quite foreign to those of the ordinary sneak thief.

Saturday about midnight, a peculiar noise was heard about a window in a sleeping room of the residence of Mrs. W. E. Lyon, 54 Pearl street. Mrs. Lyon's mother, who is a light sleeper, arose and went to the window, thinking it was a cat. She was much frightened and surprised, however, when she was greeted with a polite, "I beg your pardon," from a man who stood at the window. She regained her composure enough to talk with the burglar who kindly informed her that one of her neighbors was very ill and would like her to come at once. The stranger's politeness was only exceeded by his nerve which closely resembled the "Raffles" quality. After it had been explained to him that a sick child would necessitate the Lyons family remaining at home, the visitor stalked proudly away from the house.

PITH AND POINT.

Charity and piety are not always on speaking terms.

Jealousy before marriage means suspicion afterward.

A friend in need is a friend in deed rather than in words.

Sarcasm is a weapon that should be drawn only in self defense.

With some men life is but a hog path leading to the cemetery.

RUSSIAN BRIEFS.

Russia has within her empire 56,000 miles of navigable rivers.

Though Russia's wheat growing soil is almost the most fertile in existence, yet she only raises eight bushels to the acre.

A larger proportion of Russians wear beards than of any other nation in the world. By a Russian law passed in 1015 it was made a penal offense to pluck a hair from another man's beard.

In Russia it is unlawful to give kisses in public. A kiss in the street is penalized by a fine of $3.75 and on a tram car by a fine of $5. Declaration of love on a post card renders the sender liable to a fine of $2.50.

A TROUBLED LIFE.

So many cruel schemes unfurled in man's long journey through the world; We suffer from a thousand ills: Wars, earthquakes, scandal, corns and chills. And, what oft bothers me, in sooth, Is a sore little tooth.

So many evil things designed To rob us of our peace of mind. So many things the spirit roll The while we're at our daily toil. But what concerns me most today Are debts I cannot pay.

The world is full of traps and snares, And very ill a mortal fares. Oh, you'd be just as sad as I, If, though your hopes of winning grow, Your best girl jilted you!

—Judge.

Then the Innocent Died!

Broncho Bill—No, he ain't much ter look at, but that dawg's the most marvelous tracker in the world. He's traced twenty bank robbers, ten horse thieves and thirty road agents.

The Innocent—And to what, my friend, do you attribute this wonderful ability?

Broncho Bill—Well, you see, sir, when he wor a pup he used ter swallow tracing paper reglar, so you see——Funch.

Inaudible.

"Yes," said the publisher to the author, "we'll illustrate the publication of the book, with a new letter think we shall lose money on it."

"How's that?" demanded the surprised author.

"Well, there's no exposure of fitting commercial conditions in it, no political expose, no notorious scandal and no revelation of the life of the ultra rich. It is too clean to succeed, but you have done good work before, and we'll take this, not for what it is, but for what you have done, although, as I said, we are almost certain to lose money on the venture."—Pacific Monthly.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, chronic kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Lydia E. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing-down pains, swelling or burning sensations or deposits in the urine, unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back, running through the groin, she may infer that her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; a Woman's Remedy for Woman's ills.

HUKILL CASE IS SET FOR TUESDAY

USUAL MONDAY MORNING GRIND IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING.

Three Lads Sent to the Juvenile Court for the 10:30 Drunks and Train Riders.

The case of David Hukill, charged with stealing $70 worth of carpenter's tools, was called in police court Monday morning but neither side was ready for trial. Mayor McCleary continued the case until Tuesday morning.

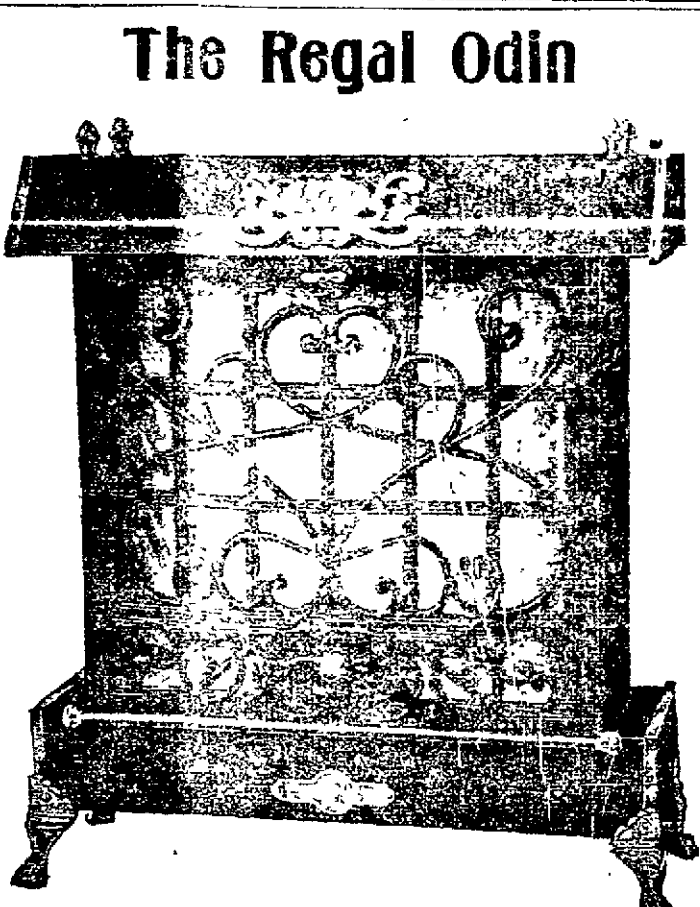

The usual Monday morning slate was on the mayor's desk when he reached the city prison for police court Monday morning and none of the cases were of a serious nature. Most of the cases were ordinary drunks.

Steve Smith, Bellaire, Joe Wells of Connecticut, and Charles Hagerty of Cumberland, Md., were all donated by the railroad officials on a charge of train riding. The men all arrived in Newark Sunday night riding the bumpers. Each was fined $5 and costs. Joseph Collins, a Newark man was drunk Saturday night and when he was given a few words of golden advice by Officer Callan, he grew in sulking and handed out a bunch of indecent talk to the officer. "Fire and costs and stone pile for Joseph," was the edict of the court.

Marjorie Taylor and Frank Jones had the charge of fighting placed on opposite their names. Each drew a fine of $5 and costs. Martin Smith of West Newark, was charged by his wife with assault and battery. She told a story of great length, how she had been abused for the last three months. Martin wanted to stand trial so the case was continued until Tuesday morning.

Bicycle thieves are at work again and the police on Sunday captured Charles Athey, Frank Lamp and Harry Thompson and slated them with petit larceny. It is alleged that the lads stole a wheel from T. J. Stahler Saturday night. Sunday morning Chief Sheridan arrested Thompson on West Main street as he was going down the alley with a bicycle taken from in front of the A. I. U. hall. The lads were sent to the juvenile court where Judge Brister will have jurisdiction in the cases.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

JAMES HOOLEY.

James Hooley was born in Lester-shire, England, March 7, 1819. His early-boyhood days were spent at this place, where he received his education. He then moved to London, where 20 years of his life was spent. He was married to Elizabeth Reeves Nov. 4, 1843. Of this union eight children were born, three of whom survive. Being of an ambitious nature and thinking the future prospects in America better than where he previously lived, he moved with his wife and three children to this country in the year 1871. With the exception of a few years he has always made Granville his home. He with his wife united with the Methodist Episcopal church in early life, where he proved himself a most devoted Christian. For many years he was a class leader and teacher of a large Sunday school class. He always placed the church and its obligations first, and business and social affairs afterward. Since his wife's death in 1890 he has made his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wallace. His sickness has been of short duration, lasting only a few weeks, and he died on October 12, pausing him in whom he had so long trusted.

JOHN KLOEPFER.

Mr. John Kloepfer, aged 59 years, and 11 months, died after a long illness of tuberculosis at his home in North Newark Monday at 11:20 a.m. The deceased leaves two daughters, Mrs. Leona Edwards of Cadiz, O., and Miss Alice Kloepfer of this city, and one son, John, also of this place. IN METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. T. A. Cosgrove Will Lecture Tonight on Life and Work of Winson Carlie.

The Rev. T. A. Cosgrove will deliver the highly interesting lecture on "The Life and Work of Winson Carlie," which was given by him at his church one week ago Sunday evening, at the First M. E. church Monday evening, beginning at 7:30.

The lecture as given by Rev. Mr. Cosgrove at his own church before a large congregation, is one of the most interesting. It deals with the reform of Carlie from a skeptic and an irreligious man and shows his efforts in the founding of the "Church Army," an institution which has a large following in England and numerous branches throughout Canada and the United States. The Church Army is designated as the bridge between the church and the so-called masses, and is, in short, the making use of the lay worker. Carlie, in founding this institution, met with the gravest amount of opposition, which assumed the shape of an organized body whose sole efforts were exerted toward opposing his movement. The lecture is highly colored with Rev. Mr. Cosgrove's beautiful descriptions and it will not doubt be largely attended. There will be no admission charged. The lecture begins at 7:30.

A DAY'S DOINGS IN COURT HOUSE

ACTION IN COMMON PLEAS TO SET ASIDE WILL OF MALINDA J. MILLER.

Suit in Partition—Demurrers Filed—Property Transferred—Court News Items.

William Miller has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court against Wilmetta Bayless, Sarah Curfman, Thomas Potts and David M. Keller, administrator with the will annexed, of the estate of Malinda J. Miller, to set aside the will of Malinda J. Miller. Plaintiff says that on the 26th of August, 1906, Malinda J. Miller died, leaving the plaintiff, who was her husband, and the defendants, Thomas Potts, Wilmetta Bayless and Sarah Curfman, as her only heirs at law. Plaintiff says that on the 24th of August, 1906, what purported to be the last will of Malinda J. Miller, bearing date of August 16, 1906, was probated in the Probate court on August 25, 1906, and letters of administration were issued to David M. Keller, with the will annexed, who qualified. That by the terms of the paper writing all the defendants with the exception of David M. Keller were named as legatees and devisees of Malinda J. Miller, and the plaintiff, William Miller is also named as being entitled to a dower interest in the real estate of Malinda J. Miller.

Plaintiff says that the paper writing is not the last will of Malinda J. Miller; that at the date of said writing she was not of sound mind and memory, and was coerced into signing the paper by the influence of her father, James Gary, and her sister, Sadie Downs, and the defendants.

Plaintiff asks that an issue be made up as to whether the paper is the last will of Malinda J. Miller, and that the sum be set aside, and such other relief as is proper. J. R. Fitzgibbon, attorney for plaintiff.

He asks that the defendants be required to answer and set up their rights if any, to the premises, and that the court determine the rights; and that upon a final hearing that court order plaintiff's interest in the premises to be set off to him in severally if the same can be done without manifest injury. If not that they be sold and that partition be made and for such other proceedings in the premises as are authorized by law. J. R. Fitzgibbon, attorney for plaintiff.

BRIDEGROOM IS DISCONSOLATE OVER FAILURE TO FIND HIS WIFE.

Wm. Ruff Wrote Note Giving Funeral Directions and Then Drank Poison.

Lancaster, Ohio, Oct. 15.—William Ruff, 24, of this city, committed suicide Sunday on a Scioto Valley traction car, near Canal Winchester, by swallowing carbolic acid. Three weeks ago Ruff was married to Miss Cummings of London. Since their marriage it is said they have frequently quarreled. Sunday she went to Columbus and he followed, but failed to locate her. Crazy with grief he boarded the 3 o'clock car for home. When the conductor collected his ticket Ruff wrote a note giving directions about the disposition of his remains, and swallowed the acid.

OHIO MAGAZINE FOR OCTOBER OUT

The Ohio Magazine for October sustaining the high reputation established in the earlier numbers, is in a new and appropriate fall dress. The cover design "The Ohio Buckeye Burr" is printed in brown from a photograph by J. H. Haskett, stati photographer, and is a great improvement over the cover design used heretofore.

"A Third Term for the President," by Gen. Grosvenor, "Ohio in the New Conquest of Dixie," showing what Buckeye men are doing in the development of the new South, "The Northwest Prior to 1793," by P. E. Wilson, a study of the heroic interest of the Treaty of Greenville, Ohio, and "In the Matter of the Muck Rakers Association," are among the best things in the October number, while the pictures are as pleasing as usual. Miss Florence M. King's verses "Fish-in" clever and catchy, and an exceedingly good half tone picture of the Looking Narrows at Black Hand will be of special local interest.

The Buckeye Philosopher says some good things in his usual happy and unique way, and altogether, a perusal of the Ohio Magazine for October puts a good taste in one's mouth.
